1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY AND PROJECT DETAILS

1.1 Executive Summary

Buckeye PT Terminals, LP (Buckeye) operates a petroleum bulk terminal located at 134 Forbes Avenue, New Haven, Connecticut (New Haven Forbes Terminal). Buckeye Terminals, LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of Buckeye Partners, LP, acquired all the outstanding equity interests of Magellan Terminals Holdings, L.P., which owned the Forbes Terminal facility and was a wholly owned subsidiary of Magellan Midstream Partners, L.P. on March 20, 2020. Note that immediately prior to closing, the name of Magellan Terminals Holdings, L.P. was changed to Buckeye PT Terminals, LP. Buckeye is submitting an Environmental Justice Public Participation Plan (EJ PPP) for the New Haven Forbes Terminal. For more information on Buckeye visit our website at <https://www.buckeye.com>. The Connecticut Department of Energy and Environmental Protection (CTDEEP) requires all affecting facilities submit an EJ PPP when applying for a new permit. This EJ PPP was completed in accordance with Connecticut General Statutes (CGS) 22a-20a.

The purpose of this EJ PPP is to ensure meaningful public participation by providing details on planned public outreach efforts. Public outreach will include newspaper postings, signage, letters, etc. designed to inform the surrounding communities of site improvement projects being performed at Buckeye's Forbes New Haven Terminal. Per CGS 22a-20a (b)(1), the filing of an assessment of environmental or public health stressors is not required since regulations have not yet been adopted pursuant to paragraph (f) of this statute.

Buckeye is requesting review and approval of this EJ PPP from CTDEEP's Environmental Justice Department. Once the EJ PPP is approved, the EJ PPP will be fully implemented. Following the conclusion of Buckeye's public outreach efforts, a final report will be submitted documenting completion – which will include video record of the informal public meeting. Additionally, Buckeye will send out final determination notifications to all entities listed in Appendix C.

1.2 Site and Project Details

Buckeye operates a petroleum bulk terminal at 134 Forbes Avenue in New Haven (New Haven Forbes Terminal). Principal operations include receipt, storage, and wholesale distribution of gasoline and distillate products. As a petroleum bulk terminal, the site operates aboveground storage tanks. The New Haven Forbes Terminal operates under an existing approved Title V permit 117-0270-TV that was issued by Connecticut Department of Energy and Environmental Protection (CTDEEP) on March 29, 2016 and revised to incorporate the ownership change on November 6, 2020. A timely and complete Title V renewal application was submitted to the Department in April 2020.

Buckeye is planning to submit a New Source Review (NSR) application in response to a Notice of Violation (NOV) No. 18396 issued by the CTDEEP for failure to obtain a permit to install and operate the existing organic liquid storage tanks, Tanks 30M, 31M, and 32M (EU-9, EU-10, and EU-11), as required by Connecticut General Statutes Section 22a-174 and Section 22a-174-3a of the Regulations of Connecticut State Agencies. The New Haven Forbes Terminal is an affecting facility under CGS 22a-20a and is located in an Environmental Justice Community. Thus, the submittal of a new permit application requires the submittal of an EJ PPP.

Operation of Tanks 30M, 31M, and 32M (EU-9, EU-10, and EU-11) has been authorized by CTDEEP for two (2) decades. The tanks began operation in 2004. A minor Title V modification was submitted to CTDEEP for the installation of the tanks on January 23, 2004, and the tanks were added to the facility's Title V air permit upon renewal on March 28, 2006. The proposed NSR permit application for Tanks 30M, 31M, and 32M will be submitted to CTDEEP in order to administratively resolve NOV 18396. These tanks are existing sources and Buckeye is not proposing any physical or operational changes to the tanks. However, the action of submitting NSR permit applications for the tanks does trigger the need to address Connecticut's EJ requirements.

1.2.1 Overview of Facility Operations and Environmental Compliance Programs

The safety and health of our employees and neighbors, as well as the protection of the environment is Buckeye's highest priority. Any environmental concerns reported by citizens or regulators, such as odor or fugitive emissions, are immediately investigated by facility operations personnel, with assistance from environmental specialists, as needed, to determine if there are any possible Buckeye sources causing the concern. The following sections describe facility operations and the preventive measures employed to ensure the safe operations of the terminal and to ensure the protection of the environment.

1.2.1.1 Terminal Description

The Buckeye Forbes terminal is a petroleum bulk storage terminal. The facility stores reformulated gasoline, denatured ethanol, diesel fuel, kerosene and heating oil, as well as small amounts of EPA-approved fuel additives. These products are primarily shipped to the Terminal by pipeline, marine vessels and via tank trucks. Petroleum products are dispensed out to customers by a truck loading rack and via pipeline. There are 15 bulk petroleum storage tanks ranging in size from 570,000 gallons to 4,800,000 gallons, currently 9 tanks are storing gasoline, 2 tanks are storing ethanol, 3 tanks are storing diesel/heating oil, and 1 tank is storing kerosene. There are also 5 smaller additive tanks (ranging in size from 3,500 gallons to 10,000 gallons). The facility is staffed 24 hours per day, 7 days per week.

1.2.1.2 Facility and Equipment Inspections

A detailed inspection of the terminal is conducted on a daily basis by the terminal operators. The inspections include a walk-through of the entire terminal. The objective of the daily walk-throughs is to ensure that all equipment, systems, and structures are in a satisfactory condition. Inspection checklists are used to ensure all equipment and areas are inspected. If any abnormal conditions are found, actions are taken as soon as possible, including potentially taking the equipment out of service.

Buckeye adheres to national industry standards and codes for the inspection and maintenance of storage tanks and piping. The inspection codes were developed by the American Petroleum Institute (API) and Steel Tank Institute (STI) and have been adopted by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the Connecticut Department of Energy and Environmental Protection (CTDEEP). To comply with the codes, all storage tanks receive a detailed routine inspection on a monthly basis, as well as formal external inspections (in-service) every 5 years and formal internal inspections (while tanks are empty and clean) at regular specified frequencies.

1.2.1.3 Oil Spill Prevention

Buckeye has a robust preventative maintenance program, in which all equipment is inspected and maintained according to a preset schedule. All inspection and maintenance activities are documented, tracked and scheduled using a computer database program.

All storage tanks are located in a containment basin designed to contain the maximum volume of the largest tank in the secondary containment basin, plus the rainfall volume generated by a 25-year storm event. If a tank or piping leak occurs, the product will be contained in the secondary containment basin, which is sealed by valves and can only be opened by facility operators. Other areas where petroleum is handled (including tanker truck loading areas) are surrounded by curbing designed to contain the volume of the largest tanker or vessel including the volume needed for rainfall.

The facility also maintains a Spill Prevention, Control, and Countermeasure (SPCC) Plan, which has been certified by a Professional Engineer and describes operating procedures to prevent spills, control and preventative measures to prevent spills from reaching navigable waters, and countermeasures to contain, cleanup and mitigate the effects of spills. The SPCC Plan is periodically reviewed by operations and management, as well as a Professional Engineer.

The facility also maintains compliance with a CTDEEP Marine Terminal License which must be approved and renewed every 3 years and allows CTDEEP to inspect the facility at any time. Prior to loading marine barges with heating oil or diesel fuel, floating boom is placed around the vessel. In the rare event that a leak occurs during a marine transfer, the oil/diesel fuel would be trapped within the boom and prevented from spreading outside the boomed area. The facility also receives denatured ethanol via marine barges, but the Coast Guard does not require these vessels to be boomed. In addition, all bulk storage tanks are equipped with high-level alarms to prevent a tank overfill.

1.2.1.4 Air Emissions Controls

The facility operates under a Title V Operating Permit, issued by the CTDEEP Bureau of Air Management. The permit mandates certain air pollution controls as described below.

The vapors generated while filling gasoline tanker trucks are captured and sent to vapor combustion unit to control VOC emissions to levels that meet or exceed mandated State and Federal emission limits. The facility also utilizes a vacuum assist system that captures and eliminates all fugitive emissions associated with truck loading. All tanker trucks are pressure tested on a regular basis to ensure they are vapor tight in accordance with Federal regulations. The facility tracks the test dates of all tanker trucks and has a system that will prevent the tanker truck from loading if a tanker does not have a current valid vapor tightness testing certificate.

Gasoline storage tanks all have internal floating roofs (IFRs), which float on the gasoline. In accordance with EPA and CTDEEP regulations, the floating roofs prevent gasoline vapors from being emitted into the atmosphere. The IFRs are equipped with rim seals which press against the tank wall and help prevent gasoline vapors from escaping between the floating roof and walls of the tank. All IFRs are subject to routine mandated inspections to ensure they operate as designed.

All trucks coming to the facility to load are expected to follow the state's 3-minute idling law and signs are posted at the facility as a reminder of this requirement.

1.2.1.5 Water Pollution Control

The Terminal maintains a CTDEEP General Stormwater permit, which regulates the management of stormwater runoff. The permit requires the stormwater to be inspected, and laboratory tested on a regular basis, with all testing results being submitted to the CTDEEP.

The permit also requires the preparation of a stormwater pollution prevention plan (SWPPP). The SWPPP contains management measures to prevent contamination of stormwater runoff. Stormwater that collects in the tanker truck loading containment area is drained to an oil/water separator vessel which separates any floating oil from the stormwater.

Stormwater that collects in the tank containment basin is drained through a series of stormwater catch basins and stormwater piping. The piping is sealed by valves and can only be opened by facility operators.

Stormwater is visually inspected prior to discharge. Facility operators inspect the standing stormwater to ensure it does not contain floating solids, visible foam, visible sheens or discoloration. No chemicals (i.e. disinfecting agents, detergents, emulsifiers, etc.) are added to the stormwater. If the water is free of contamination, the drain valves will be opened to allow the stormwater to drain. The stormwater then flows through a second oil/water separator, outside of the tank containment basin, before being discharged through an outfall on the shore of the Quinnipiac River.

1.2.1.6 Waste Management

All industrial waste generated by the terminal is managed in compliance with all federal and state regulations. All waste is tracked and shipped to fully licensed and permitted disposal companies. Buckeye utilizes an environmentally preferable Waste Minimization Hierarchy: Avoid – Reduce – Re-Use – Recycle – Recover – Dispose to minimize the generation of industrial waste.

1.2.1.7 Oil Spill Response

The terminal maintains a Facility Response Plan (FRP) that has been reviewed and approved by the US Coast Guard and US Environmental Protection Agency. The FRP is a planning document which lays out the measures to be taken in the event of petroleum releases to land or water. Emergency spill drills are periodically conducted to maintain readiness of facility personnel. The terminal also maintains contracts with several local and national Oil Spill Response Organizations (OSRO). In addition, the facility maintains an inventory of oil spill response equipment and materials.

1.2.1.8 Security

The Forbes Terminal is completely enclosed within chain link fencing and locked at all times. Security cameras monitor the perimeter fence, dock, and tanker truck loading area.

For information on Buckeye's sustainability efforts see our website at <https://www.buckeye.com/our-responsibility>.

A. Identify Time and Place of Informal Public Meeting

- ▶ Date: Tuesday, October 7th, 2025
- ▶ Place: New Haven City Hall
- ▶ Time: 6-8 pm

- ▶ Buckeye is planning to hold an informal meeting upon approval of this plan. The meeting will be held at New Haven City Hall (165 Church St, New Haven, CT). The meeting will be held at on Tuesday, October 7th, 2025 from 6-8 pm. The meeting time and location were selected to be convenient for community members.

B. Identify Communication Methods by Which to Publicize the Public Meeting

The meeting will be announced in print, online editions of locally circulated newspapers, Buckeye's website, and New Haven City's website (if possible). The announcement will include the time, location and description of the meeting's purpose. Additionally, it will include information on how an interested person may review project documents. It will be posted in the New Haven Register in English and La Voz Hispana in Spanish (minimum one-quarter page advertisement in the Monday issue). This meeting announcement will be published not less than 10 days prior to and no more than 30 days prior to the meeting.

The meeting announcement will include a web address to access additional information about the permitting action. Printed copies of the documents will be made available during the public meeting for those individuals that do not have access to the internet or prefer printed copies.

In addition to posting public notices in the newspapers noted above, Buckeye will post physical signage detailing the time, location, and the purpose of the informal public meeting at the Forbes New Haven Terminal and in the surrounding community. The signage posted on the property and in the community will be in both English and Spanish. An example informal public meeting announcement can be found in Appendix D.

Information regarding the public meeting will also be posted on Buckeye's website at <https://www.buckeye.com/event/new-haven-forbes-terminal-public-meeting>

At least thirty days prior to the public meeting, written notification will also be sent to local and state agencies as well as neighborhood and environmental groups within the affected area and all residential households within a half mile of the facility. This written notification will include the date, time, location, description of the proposed permitting action for three storage tanks at the facility, an area map, information on how to review project materials, and addresses for mailed and electronic submission of written public comments. For a complete list of entities that will be notified, see Appendix C. Appendix D provides a sample written notification. The written notification will be provided in English and Spanish. As required by Conn. Gen. Stat. § 22a-20a(b)(3), written notification of subsequent public participation opportunities that occur during the permit process will also be sent to these residential households and they will be notified of any notice of tentative or final determination by DEEP.

4. PART III : MEASURES TO FACILITATE MEANINGFUL PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

A. Identification of Proposed Facility or Proposed Expansion of a Facility.

1. Identify the potential environmental and health impacts of such facility or the expansion of such facility, i.e., increased air emissions, water discharges, material management issues, etc.

Buckeye operates a bulk petroleum terminal located on the New Haven Harbor with principal operations including receipt, storage, and wholesale distribution of petroleum products, specifically gasoline, ethanol, kerosene, diesel and heating oil. As described in Section 1 of this plan, Buckeye is not installing any new equipment but is planning to submit an NSR permit application for existing Tanks 30M, 31M, and 32M in response to an NOV received by CTDEEP. Appendix B provides a facility site plan.

Inherent with handling all petroleum products is evaporative losses. Federal and state regulations exist to minimize such air emissions. As no new equipment is being installed and all applicable federal and state regulations are already included in the facility's Title V air permit (which authorizes the operation of Tanks 30M, 31M, and 32M), overall air emissions will remain unchanged as a result of this permitting action. Buckeye is proposing to establish a VOC emission limit of 14.9 tons per year (tpy) for each tank individually and 24.9 tpy for the tanks collectively.

2. Identify permits and general permits needed for the project by completing the Permit Checklist (DEP-APP-001A).

It is important to complete the Checklist thoroughly to identify to the public what types of Department permits may be needed for such facility.

See Appendix A for the required Permit Checklist (DEP-APP-001A).

3. Identify efforts to mitigate the potential environmental and health impacts of such facility.

As detailed in the answer to Item # 4 below, Buckeye currently operates Tanks 30M, 31M, and 32M in accordance with stringent state and federal air quality requirements including NSPS Subpart Kb and MACT Subpart R. Additional emission restrictions and control methods will be proposed as part of this permitting action. In addition, Buckeye intends to work with the City of New Haven to evaluate mitigation options as part of a community benefit agreement.

4. Identify any pollution control measures associated with the project.

Pursuant to the RCSA § 22a-174-3a, the storage tanks will be required to demonstrate that the controls installed will be Best Available Control Technology (BACT). Per EPA New Source Performance Standards (40 CFR Part 60) and National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants (40 CFR Part 63), the tanks are each equipped with internal floating roofs with a mechanical shoe primary seal, and a vapor mounted secondary seal. In addition, when the tanks are cleaned and degassed, Buckeye will utilize a portable thermal oxidizer to reduce VOC and HAP emissions by 98% for the duration of the degassing event. The thermal oxidizer control during tank cleaning operations is an emission reduction which will be proposed as part of this permitting action.

5. Describe the location of the proposed facility with respect to residents and other community members (e.g., schools, parks, where people live, work etc.), including vehicle traffic patterns, noise, hours of operation and proximity to sensitive receptors, which could cause concerns in the community.

The New Haven Forbes Terminal facility is an existing petroleum terminal located along the waterfront of the New Haven harbor, in a highly industrial area, and in the vicinity of other bulk terminals having similar operations. This permitting activity is not proposing to increase facility operations and therefore will not create any additional impacts on members of the community relating to traffic patterns, noise, or hours of operation. See Appendix B for an area map.

B. Identification of Impacted Community

1. Identify potentially impacted community (e.g., local neighborhood and religious institutions, schools and sensitive receptors such as day care centers and clinics and hospitals, local businesses, community based organizations and environmental organizations).

All residences within a half-mile radius of the existing site have been identified. Buckeye will reach out to addresses associated with the property area delineated in Appendix B to inform community members of the planned permitting activity.

For a complete list of the impacted community entities and residents that will be notified, see Appendix C.

2. Identify community's demographics including: age, income, language, population, race/ ethnicity, and economic status.

The City of New Haven's demographic information, determined by review of the US Census Bureau website : ¹

- ▶ Age:
 - Under 18 years: 22.4%
 - 18 years to 65 years: 67.1%
 - 65 years and over: 10.5%
- ▶ Income and Economic Status:
 - Median household income: $48,973
 - Per capita income in past 12 months: $29,348
- ▶ Language:
 - Language other than English spoken at home: 33% - Given that greater than 30% of the local population is Hispanic, all notices will be printed in English and Spanish.
- ▶ Population:
 - 138,915

- ▶ Race and Ethnicity:
 - White: 40.1%
 - Black: 33.9%
 - Hispanic: 30.3%
 - Asian: 5.2%

3. Identify community(s) planned and existing types of development

Based on the zoning classification provided by CT’s zoning atlas, the New Haven Forbes Terminal is located in a Heavy Industry zone. Buckeye is not aware of any plans for community projects in the vicinity of the terminal. The City of New Haven’s website was also reviewed to evaluate the listings of future projects and projects currently in construction. No future projects were identified that would be impacted by Buckeye’s activities.
